TITLE

He trusted in the LORD, the God of Israel, so that after him there was none like him among all the kings of Judah, nor among those who were before him. For he clung to the LORD; he did not depart from following Him, but kept His commandments, which the LORD had commanded Moses.

An aerial perspective of a fortified city, Jerusalem, during Hezekiah's reign. The city is densely packed with small, uniform houses, mostly with dark roofs. It is surrounded by a high, brown stone wall with battlements. The city is situated on a hillside, with a steep, rocky slope leading down to a valley. In the bottom left corner, there is a large, rectangular, blue-tinted area, possibly a reservoir or a large pool. The surrounding landscape is hilly and covered with sparse green vegetation. Two yellow, scroll-like banners with black text are overlaid on the image. One banner in the top left corner reads "Western Hill", and another in the bottom right corner reads "Hezekiah's Reign".

LEADING BY CLINGING TO GOD UNDEVIATINGLY

As for Hezekiah the Judahite, who did not submit to my yoke: forty-six of his strong, walled cities, as well as the small towns in their area, which were without number, by levelling with battering-rams and by bringing up siege-engines, and by attacking and storming on foot, by mines, tunnels, and breeches, I besieged and took them. 200,150 people, great and small, male and female, horses, mules, asses, camels, cattle and sheep without number, I brought away from them and counted as spoil. (Hezekiah) himself, like a caged bird I shut up in Jerusalem, his royal city.”
